

Disclosure and Reporting Obligations

In a changing regulatory environment, your challenges include analyzing when information that may be material should be disclosed and how. Following guidelines. Knowing what's coming down the path.

The lawyers at Hogan Lovells advise you on all relevant disclosure and reporting obligations. We represent public companies and their boards of directors on complying with federal securities laws, including SEC reporting requirements, annual meetings, and proxy-related matters, as well as insider trading and compensation disclosures.

We guide you with pragmatic and on-point advice, in layman's terms. We draft, solve, and guide you through any issues that may arise. The process of reporting and disclosing information is a priority you take seriously. We help you through it with confidence.

Latest thinking and events

Hogan Lovells Publications

SEC staff issues important guidance on shareholder proposals for the 2020 proxy season

SEC Update

Hogan Lovells Publications

SEC staff announces changes to processing of shareholder proposal no-action requests

SEC Update

Hogan Lovells Publications

Practices

Securities and Public
Company Advisory

Crisis Leadership Team

Corporate Governance

SEC proposes to amend requirements for disclosure on business, legal proceedings and risk factors

Hogan Lovells Publications

SEC adopts rule amendments under the FAST Act to modernize and simplify disclosure

SEC Update

Hogan Lovells Publications

SEC brings enforcement action for violation of "equal or greater prominence" requirement in presentation of non-GAAP financial measures

SEC Update

Hogan Lovells Publications

SEC overhauls mining property disclosure regime

SEC Update