

Banking and Finance Litigation

We represent some of the biggest, most active global banks and financial institutions finding solutions to their regulatory enforcement issues, class actions, and other major litigation risks, which further our clients' strategic goals.

Our lawyers don't see problems in isolation. We recognize that superficially simple issues can have far-reaching implications, and that disputes which seem to be worth pennies can sometimes cost billions.

We have deep knowledge of the industry, the products (including investment banking, derivatives, wealth/private banking, asset management, lending, trade finance, and retail/consumer finance), as well as the law. We set precedents, lead trends, and advise on matters of huge significance across the entire sector. And we are unmatched in regulatory enforcement matters and civil actions involving:

- Benchmark and trading manipulation
- Distressed assets/restructuring
- Mis-selling and fraud claims
- Consumer finance
- Aviation finance
- Complex structured products, including portfolios of wholesale products and mass consumer claims
- Cross-border investigations and disputes
- Class actions

We have versatile practitioners in every major financial center
