

Daniel Petrokas

Associate

New York

Biography

Daniel Petrokas represents clients in a variety of complex commercial litigation and employment matters. Daniel handles cases from public- and private-sector clients across a range of industries, with particular experience handling matters for clients in the consumer products and technology spheres.

Daniel has litigated a variety of large-scale class action lawsuits, including consumer fraud and wage-and-hour disputes, as well as cases under the False Claims Act and various anti-discrimination statutes.

Daniel began his Hogan Lovells career as a summer associate in the firm's New York office in 2017. While at Cornell Law School, Daniel was a notes editor for the Cornell Journal of Law and Public Policy as well as a bench editor for the Moot Court Board. Daniel was awarded a CALI Excellence for the Future award in Guilty Acts; Guilty Minds, a criminal law seminar discussing issues of mens rea and actus reus. Before joining the firm, Daniel worked as a legal intern at the Chicago District Office of the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.
